A LITTLE HISTORY....

1884: Arrival of the railway
1894: Arrival of electricity
1897: Briançon became a subprefecture district
1902 : First ski school
1907 : First ski competition at Montgenèvre
1919 : First winter sports' club

Serre Chevalier's emblem is the eagle, and it comes from the Bez family's coat of arms. Bez is one of the 13 villages and hamlets in the Guisane valley. Serre Chevalier's name came from the Occitan language: "Serre" means small hill, and "cambeou" means a herd or flock.

Skiing was very fashionable in the roaring twenties and the Briançon area attracted people from the world of show business, but the 1939-1945 war ruined the business. Nevertheless, the first mechanical lift in Serre Chevalier, the Saint Chaffrey cable car, was inaugurated at Chantemerle in 1941, and it was the longest in Europe at that time. The ski area took really off in the 1950s.

The name Serre Chevalier was definitively adopted in 1968. The Grand Serre Chevalier area was created in 1984 when Monêtier-les-Bains was added, in 1990, an entirely new ski area at Briançon was included.

VILLAGE RESORTS

- 1 - Timeless charm and authenticity
- 2 - Comfortable living, ideal for family time
- 3 - The mountains of tomorrow (two real summer and winter seasons)
- 4 - A safe financial and family haven

A longing for wide-open spaces is boosting the mountain summer season year on year, with an enthusiasm reminiscent of city-dwellers' passion for country retreats.

VILLAGE RESORTS AND ESPRIT VILLAGE (VILLAGE FEEL) RESORTS ARE ALL THE RAGE !

Buyers and holidaymakers are increasingly attracted to resorts that teem with life throughout the year, such as Serre-Chevalier. Putting your urban existence on hold and escaping to a chalet-like home with authentic architecture, which gives wood and stone pride of place, set in a location with majestic scenery in a carefully-conserved area - these factors reveal a love of the mountains in both seasons, and a love that puts summer first. This is the lever for developing the tourism of tomorrow and of the future.

FEELINGS FIRST

The old 'property-investment' model in tourist apartment complexes is finished! Emotion plays a major role when people buy properties in our apartment complexes. Wishing to stay in control of exactly when they occupy the property, homeowners, influenced by the new Airbnb trend, are attracted by the opportunity of renting out their apartments for several weeks a year to pay for the running and upkeep costs. In this way, owners can ensure their mountain home is financially viable, while avoiding all the management hassle associated with the 'old model'.

A SAFE HAVEN IN EVERY SENSE

The impact of circumstantial economic risks (covid-19, international economic tensions etc.) makes stock markets very volatile. Compared to yo-yoing share prices, properties in prime locations stand out as sound investments. As well as safe havens for wealth, they make a safe haven for the family, as was evident when Parisians fled their city on the eve of lockdown. Getting away to fertile mountain landscapes with the family turns out to be a major preoccupation for the French.

SPACE IS LUXURY

Our mountain properties have moved beyond the outmoded space-saving model of the past, adopting a new model in which spacious rooms create the feel of a real home. At Terrésens, we meet our clients' expectations by aiming to find the perfect balance between price, comfort and space, especially in the living areas. The decorative focus is on providing fully-equipped American kitchens opening onto living areas that act as the heart of family life. Terrésens, therefore, aims to keep the living area above 25 sq. m. in all apartments that have two or more bedrooms.

HANGING OUT AT 2,000 M ELEVATION IS POINTLESS !

A truly fundamental trend is emerging amongst new buyers, who are no longer focusing their investments only on winter occupancy and high altitude skiing. Buyers are increasingly seeing advantages, both "financial and pleasurable", in opting for village resorts that provide welcoming environments all year round. Village resorts connected to the slopes via large-scale lifts, are able to combine the joys of snow sports with summer pleasures such as mountain hikes, relaxing on outdoor terraces in bars and restaurants, and browsing in boutiques. These summer activities are out of the question in the austere surroundings at 2,000-metre altitudes!

MOUNTAIN BIKES ELECTRIFY THE SLOPES !

There is growing summer demand for our Terrésens apartment complexes, another sign that the mountains are not just for skiing. Holidaymakers no longer want to cram themselves onto over-crowded beaches. They much prefer hitching a cart to an electric mountain bike for a family picnic on a mountain pass, bathing in a biotope lake, rafting and canyoning, or enjoying one of the many other reasonably-priced activities on offer in the summer. In order to satisfy their longing for open spaces and spending time relaxing with the family, many say they are ready to buy a second home in the mountains.

VILLAGE RESORTS,
Two real seasons - summer and winter !

- 1 - Clean air all year round
- 2 - Varied activities for all
- 3 - Calm & relaxing
- 4 - An ideal place to recharge as a family!

Professional construction and management

• DESIGNING AND BUILDING

Our group gets involved as soon as a property has been identified. After our development department has carried out a study, we choose the locations paying meticulous attention to detail. The choice is vital because it guarantees the best investment: “Location, location, location” is our motto! We then carry out the following steps: markets studies for the product; benchmarking; and product design in collaboration with the architects, our management department and the future management teams. When building the properties, we get involved as the property developer/co-developer, or even as consulting technicians or engineers.

• MARKETING AND CONSULTING

Immoé, a subsidiary of the TERRÉSENS group, markets the properties (apartments, chalets, villas etc.). We work with our own network of consultants in France and internationally.

• MANAGING AND OPERATING

Our management team studies, selects and validates the future property programmes completely independently so as to ensure long-lasting problem-free management. Depending on the project, its size, location, and the typology of the building, we entrust the running of the residential complexes to well-known, recognised managers or we run them ourselves. During the operational phase, our on-site teams ensure the properties are well-run, full of bookings, while also looking after the upkeep of the apartments and shared areas and carrying out technical monitoring.
